

CAMBRIDGE ROLLERS

They are intended for additional soil working before seeding mainly in hard-to-process, dry conditions. Cambridge rollers are used for surface levelling, clod crumbling and for restoring soil capillarity. The machine may be also used after seeding.

Such a working operation increases the uniformity of seed germination and speeds plant growth. Farmet produces the machines with working widths of 6 and 9 meters.

